

SUnMaRC 2018 at UNM
Undergraduate Math Research Conference
April 13, 2018 – April 15, 2018

SUnMaRC is an undergraduate mathematics and statistics research conference held every year in the US Southwest. Students from Arizona, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas attend.

Any undergraduate interested in mathematics and its applications is invited to participate:

- meet other students with similar interests
- listen to great student and invited speaker talks
- give a talk on your work if interested
- network with students and faculty from throughout the SW
- have fun! Meals and many activities are scheduled

For more information on the program and to register, see sunmarc.org.

Registration deadline : March 30th
